Mounting instructions for ELDA200 and ELDA250 External Grille

Note: Installation of this product should be carried out by appropriately qualified persons

1. Separate the grille and spigot.
2. Cut a square hole (250mm x 250mm for ELDA200 / 300mm x 300mm for ELDA250) for the spigot body in the external wall or eave where the grille is to be located. Spigot flange should sit on outside of the wall (refer to diagram below).

4. Attach 2 duct clips (not included) to the spigot on opposite sides to each other. The protruding wing should be to the outside of the spigot.
5. Pull end of flexible duct through hole, then slide duct over the outside of the spigot and duct clips. Attach duct to spigot using cable tie/duct tape (not included).
6. Push excess duct back through hole, then fix spigot to the wall or eave using a method that the installer deems appropriate (Note: Fix to non-dimple flanges only).
7. Silicon bottom internal corners of spigot to insure waterproofing.
8. Finally attach grille by firmly pressing it into the spigot for a snap on fit.
